JE SUIS CHARLIE

Dear friends and colleagues;

We are so sad for the bloody attack made to "Charlie Hebdo" Magazine and for our four colleagues and the other people who passed away during the attack.

This savagery has been made against the freedom of thought and can't be accepted. That's why we accept that the attack had not only made to Charlie Hebdo Magazine; it had been made for all of us and we protest it with violence.

For a world existing more freedom; for a humanity which people lived brotherly, we will continue drawing and produce ideas. For the ones who are afraid of humor will get drowned in their own bloods.

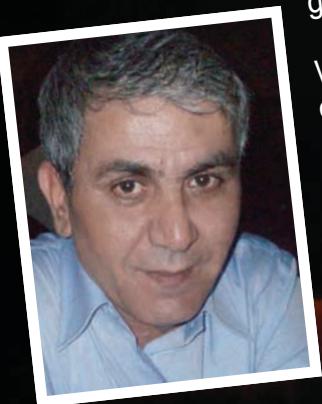

We damn the terror and the emperialism who supports the terrorism!

We offer our condolences to all Charlie Hebdo Magazine workers and to all our colleagues.

Sincerely...

Aziz YAVUZDOGAN

editor-in-chief

Sevgili dostlar ve meslektaşlarımız;

Biz çok üzgünüz, "Charlie Hebdo" dergisine yapılan
kanlı saldırının için ve orada katledilen
4 Fransız karikatürcü meslektaşımız için.

Bu vahşet, düşünce özgürlüğüne karşı yapılmıştır
ve hangi gerekçe ile olursa olsun asla kabul edilemez.

Bu anlamda bu saldırıyı sadece Charlie Hebdo dergisine değil, hepimize yapılmış bir saldırının olarak kabul ediyoruz ve şiddetle protesto ediyoruz.

Daha özgür bir dünya için, daha kardeşçe yaşayan
bir insanlık için çizmeye ve fikir üretmeye devam edeceğiz.

Terörü ve onun arkasında duran emperyalist
desteği lanetliyoruz !

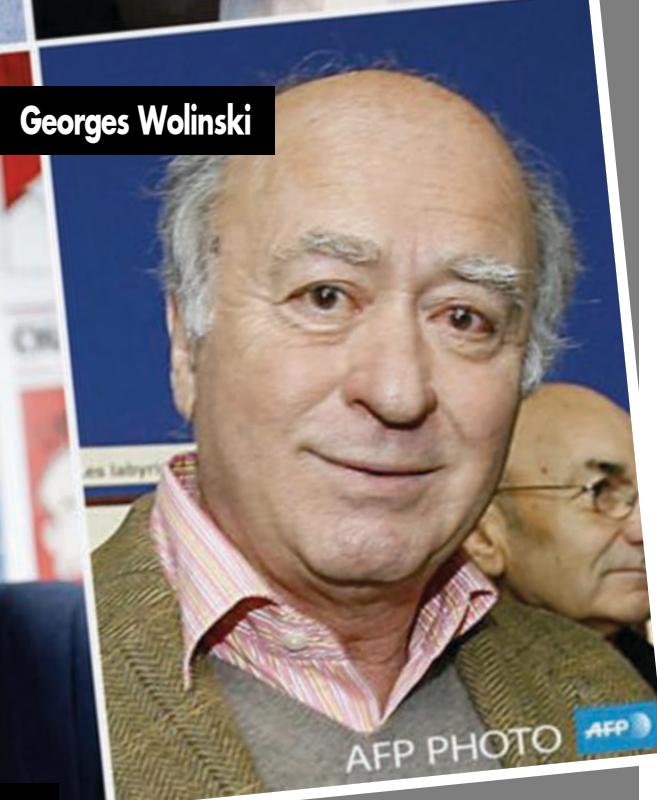

Charlie Hebdo dergisi çalışanlarına ve
tüm meslektaşımıza başsağlığı diliyoruz.

Saygılarımla.

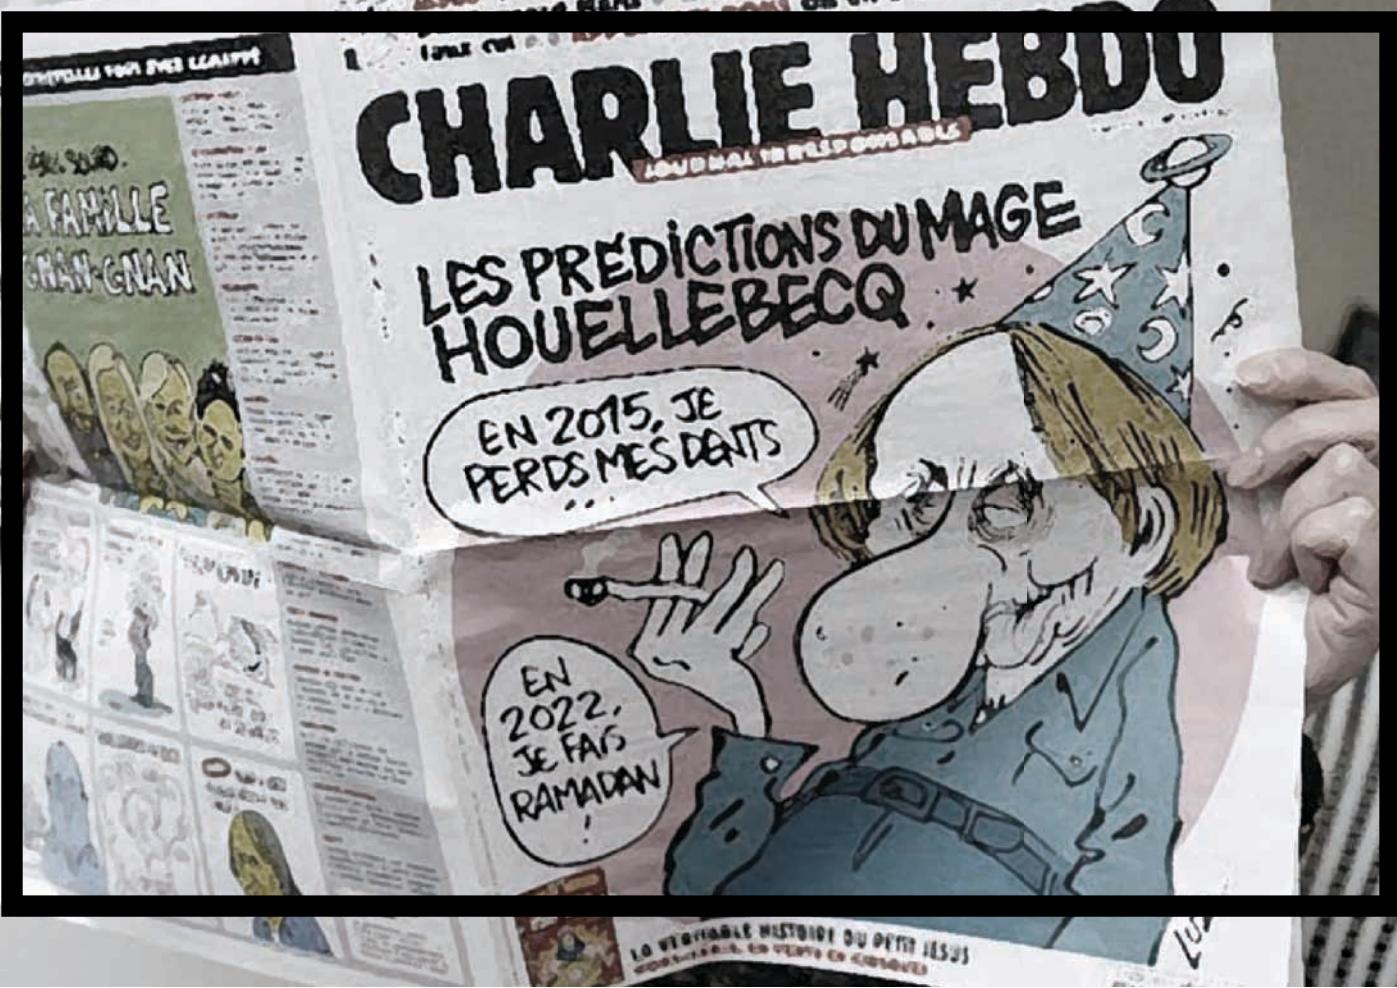

Aziz YAVUZDOĞAN

yaşanan
katliamda
12 kişi yaşamını
yitirdi.
Fransa'nın
dünyaca
tanınmış mizah
dersabı "Charlie Hebdo" nun
merkezine yapılan
kanlı saldırıda ölenler arasında derginin genel yayın yönetmeni Charb ile önde gelen cizerlerinden Wolinski, Cabut ve Tignous bulunuyor...

CHARLIE HEBDO ...

Paris'te saldırı sonucu 12 kişinin Öldüğü 20 ye yakınının yaralandığı Mizah dergisi Charlie Hebdo ilk olarak 1960 yılında Hara-Kiri adı altında gazete olarak kuruldu. Daha sonra 1969 da François Cavanna, Choron ve Delfeil De Ton biraraya gelerek Charlie adıyla Aylık Karikatür dergisi olarak yayılmamaya başladılar. Aylık Yayınları'nın uzun olduğu düşünülerek 19992 yılında Charlie Hebdo adıyla haftalık olarak Yayına başladı. Şimdi Fransada Haftalık olarak yayın yapan dünyanın en Tanınmış mizah dergisi olma özelliğini de taşıyan Charlie Hebdo'nun haftalık tirajı 45000 satış fiyatı ise 3 Euro.

Öldürülen Charbonnier son karikatüründe olacakları çizmişti

Charlie Hebdo'ya yapılan saldırıda hayatını kaybeden karikatüristlerden Stéphane Charbonnier, son karikatürlerinden birinde Fransa'da radikal saldırı tehdidine dikkat çekmişti.

Charlie Hebdo'ya yapılan saldırıda Fransa'nın en tanınmış karikatüristleri ve derginin öncülüğünü yapan isimler Stéphane Charbonnier ve Jean Cabut da hayatını kaybetti. İki isim de derginin önemli isimlerindendi.

Tüm dinlerdeki radikalere eleştirilerde bulunan ve bu nedenle sürekli tehdit alan derginin öncülerinden Charbonnier son karikatürlerinden birinde Fransa'da radikal saldırı tehdidine dikkat çekmişti.

Mizah yaparken hata mı yaptılar?

1969'da çıkan dergi, Charles de Gaulle muhalifi olarak ilk yayılmasında adı Harakiri idi. Ancak De Gaulle tarafından kapatılıncı bu kez Charlie Hebdo adıyla yayınlarına devam etti. Hebdo haftalık anlamına gelir ve De Gaulle atıfla ismin başına da Charlie koydular. Politik duruşu anarşisttir, radikal laisizmi savunur. İnançlara, hiçbir dine karşı olmayıp tüm dinlerin fanatizmine karşı bir duruşu vardır. Daha önce de Hıristiyanlık, papa ve Vatikan'la ilgili birtakım karikatür ve yazılar nedeniyle eleştiri konusu olmuş hata hakkında davalar açılmıştı. Ancak Fransa mahkemeleri derginin yayınlarını basın ve ifade özgürlüğü kapsamında değerlendirmişti...

Charlie Hebdo, bazlarında "aşırı provokatif" bulunan cărekkâr dili ve çizgileriyle tanınıyor. Uzmanlara göre 1789 Fransız Devrimi'ne giden süreçte Kralice Marie-Antoinette ile dalga geçen "skandal broşürler" geleneğinin günümüzdeki uzantısı. Onlar gibi radikal solculukla müstehcenlik düzeyinde ağızbozukluğu birleştiriyor. Geçmişte kraliyet ailesindeki seks skandalları ve yolsuzlukları hicveden bu gelenek, bugün siyasetçiler, polisler, bankacılar ve dinleri hedef alıyor.

Hz. Muhammed'e hakaret niteligideki karikatür yayınlarıyla Müslümanların tepkisini çeken dergiye özellikle radikal İslami örgütlerden tehditler yağıyordu. Fakat Charlie Hebdo diğer dinleri de eleştiren karikatürler yayınlıyordu.

Hz. İsa, Meryem Ana ya da papaları sokmadığı cinsel pozisyon kalmadı, aşırı dinci Yahudileri Nazilerle öpüştürdü. Radikal solcu yaratıcıları elbette IŞİD ve lideri Ebubekir el Bağdadi'ye de al attı.

Son sayıda IŞİD'in bir süredir Fransa'yı saldırmaya tehdit etmesini yayın yönetmeni Stéphane Charbonnier (Charb) doğru çikan bir kehanet gibi çizdi.

"Hâlâ Fransa'ya saldır yok" başlıklı karikatürde, bir militan "Bekleyin - yeni yıl dileklerimizi gerçekleştirmek için ocağın sonuna dek vaktimiz var" dedi. Son sayının kapağına İslam karşıtı Fransız yazar Michel Houellebecq'in "2022'de İslami yönetim altındaki bir Fransa'yı" tasvir ettiği "Soumission" (Teslimiyet) adlı kitabı taşıdı.

Georges Wolinski

Georges David Wolinski was born on 28 June 1934 in Tunis, French Tunisia. His parents, Lola Bembaron and Siegfried Wolinski, were Jewish.

His father, who was from Poland, was murdered in 1936 when Wolinski was two years old. His mother was a Tunisian of Italian extraction. He moved to metropolitan France in 1945 shortly after World War II. He started studying architecture in Paris and following his graduation he began to deal with cartooning.

He was killed on 7 January 2015 in a terrorist attack on Charlie Hebdo along with other staff.

Jean Cabut (Cabu)

Cabu started out studying art at the École Estienne in Paris and his drawings were first published by 1954 in a local newspaper. The Algerian War forced him to be conscripted in Army for over two years, where his talent was used in the army magazine Bled and in Paris Match. His time in the army caused him to become a strident anti-militarist and adopt a slightly anarchistic view of society.

In 1960, after he left the Army, he became one of the founders of Hara-Kiri magazine.

In the 1970s and '80s, he became a popular artist, collaborating for a time with the children's TV programme, Récré A2. He continued working in political caricature for Charlie Hebdo and Le Canard enchaîné.

His popular characters include Le Grand Duduche and adjudant Kronenbourg, and especially Mon Beauf. So spot-on was this caricature of an average, racist, sexist, vulgar, ordinary Frenchman that the word 'beauf' (short for "beau-frère", i.e., brother-in-law) has slipped into ordinary use.

In February 2006, a Cabu cartoon which appeared on the cover of Charlie Hebdo in response to the Danish cartoons affair caused more controversy and a lawsuit. It depicted the Muslim prophet Muhammad under the caption "Muhammad overwhelmed by fundamentalists", crying "C'est dur d'être aimé par des cons!" ("So hard to be loved by jerks!").

He was killed on 7 January 2015 in a terrorist attack on Charlie Hebdo along with other staff.

Bernard Verlhac (Tignous)

Bernard Verlhac (1957 – 2015), known by the pseudonym, Tignous, was a French cartoonist. He was one of the collaborators of the satirical magazine Charlie Hebdo.

Verlhac was of Ecuadorian origin. In 1980 he began to work in Charlie Hebdo. He was also a contributor to the weekly news magazine Marianne and the monthly publication, Fluide Glacial.

He was killed on 7 January 2015 in a terrorist attack on Charlie Hebdo along with other staff.

Stephane Charbonnier ( Charb)

Stephane Charbonnier, told Charb, is a designer satirist and journalist French , born 21 August 1967 in Conflans-Sainte-Honorine.

He entered the satirical weekly Charlie Hebdo in 1992. His drawings appear in various newspapers and publishes several books. Charb becomes publishing director of Charlie Hebdo in 2009. He was assassinated during the attack perpetrated in the newspaper's headquarters.

He was killed on 7 January 2015 in a terrorist attack on Charlie Hebdo along with other staff.
